

CMPS

Center for Modern Psychoanalytic Studies

Extension Division presents

Modern Psychoanalysis in Russia

In 1991, Dr Harold Stern was invited to address a group of psychiatrists and psychologists in St Petersburg. These individuals were hungry for psychoanalytic training and persuaded Dr. Stern to devise an ongoing training program for them. Under the auspices of the East European Institute of Psychoanalysis in St. Petersburg, Dr. Stern has traveled to Russia for over twenty years to teach modern psychoanalysis. In this presentation, Dr. Stern will recount some of his experiences working with this group.

Sunday, November 22nd • Noon -2:00PM

CMPS. 16 West 10th Street • New York, NY 10011

212.260.7050 • www.cmps.edu • cmps@cmps.edu

This presentation will be followed by discussion and a social gathering:

—Kindly RSVP—

HAROLD STERN, PHD

Dr. Stern is a founding member of CMPS and NAAP, and founder/director of the Philadelphia School of Psychoanalysis; full Professor of Psychoanalysis, East European Institute of Psychoanalysis; and recipient of numerous teaching awards.

Photo above left to right: Dr. Evelyn Liegner, her student translator, Dr. Harold Stern, and the head of the Russian school. Photo was taken during SMP's 2014 Spring trip to Russia to honor Dr. Liegner.