

CMPS

Center for Modern Psychoanalytic Studies

Extension Division presents a Panel Discussion

Seminar: Senior Modern Psychoanalysts:

Modern Psychoanalysis: Past, Present and Future

T HIS PANEL takes a Janus-like* view of modern psychoanalysis. Like the two-faced, Roman deity who stood as the guardian to doorways, passages and transitions, this illustrious group chaired by Stanley Hayden, one of the early CMPS founders, will examine modern psychoanalysis, its prior accomplishments, and future promise.

*Janus: 2-headed Roman Deity: guardian of doorways and the gates to heaven

Friday Evening, October 23, 2015 • 7:30-9:30 PM

CMPS 16 West 10th Street, New York NY 10011

For information or to rsvp • 212.260.7050 • www.cmps.edu • cmps@cmps.edu

■ Open to clinicians and the public • This event is followed by a social gathering ■

Panel Members

Stanley Hayden, PhD, founder, CMPS and NJCMPS, faculty PSP, BGSP, and CCMP
Paul Geltner, DSW, CMPS graduate, faculty PPSC, author, Emotional Communication: Countertransference Analysis and the Use of Feeling in Psychoanalytic Technique.

Gerald Fishbein, PhD, founder CMPS; faculty CMPS and ACAP.

Valerie Frankfeldt, LCSW, PhD, CMPS graduate, faculty PPSC, MMI, CCMP.

Robert J Marshall, PhD, faculty CMPS, author, The Transference-COuntertransference Matrix

Learning Objectives: 1.) To educate and describe the accomplishments of Modern Psychoanalysis to the general public and practitioners in the field. 2.) To inspire those in the field and those desiring to enter the field to move Modern Psychoanalysis forward toward new techniques and further developments.