

CMPS

Center for Modern Psychoanalytic Studies

EXTENSION DIVISION EVENT

Social Workers: Is Psychoanalytic Training for You?

JOIN US FOR LUNCH and an exploration of the ways that modern psychoanalytic training can help you to:

- Expand and deepen your clinical insight
- Strengthen your therapeutic and supervisory skills
- Gain a solid grounding in psychoanalytic theories of human development and psychopathology
- Acquire the tools to understand and explore motivation, both conscious and unconscious

We will discuss any questions you may have about psychoanalytic training to help you determine whether this may be a path you want to follow.

Informational Lunch Seminar

Friday, April 28, 2017 • 12:00 – 2:00 PM

CMPS, 16 West 10th Street, New York, NY 10011

212-260-7050 • cmps@cmps.edu • www.cmps.edu

The seminar is free—a complimentary luncheon is provided with RSVP

---

Raúl Plasencia, LCSW, who will host the informational lunch seminar, is a graduate of NYU School of Social Work and CMPS. He has over 20 years' experience in the fields of mental health and addiction, and is in independent practice in New Jersey and New York City.

Modern psychoanalysis builds upon the foundation laid by Freud, expanding theory and technique to encompass the treatment of a broader range of psychopathology than originally thought possible. This includes disorders of the self, such as narcissistic and borderline disorders, which comprise a significant percentage of the patients currently seen by practitioners.

The Center for Modern Psychoanalytic Studies (CMPS) is chartered by the State of New York to offer a Certificate in Psychoanalysis and is recognized by the State of New York as a licensure-qualifying psychoanalytic training institute.