Modern Group Analysis

The Power of the Group: Four Stories

Group treatment is a cornerstone in the practice of modern psychoanalysis. When combined with individual treatment, it makes for a powerful and effective therapeutic intervention. This series of four stories is designed to invite discussion of the role group played in the development of four senior faculty members.

In this, the second of four presentations, Dr. Kirman discusses his experiences as a group member and leader over 30 years, exploring those aspects that facilitate growth. He will also focus on the characteristics he has found most necessary and valuable in leading groups and attempt to demonstrate them experientially with the audience.

- The event will be followed by refreshments and a social gathering.
