

CMPS

Center for Modern Psychoanalytic Studies

Educators' Workshop

Using Psychoanalytic Theory and Technique
To Be More Effective Teachers

MANAGING STUDENTS' BEHAVIOR (and administrators' demands) is a constant concern of most teachers, dominating our thoughts, feelings, and conversations with each other. Join us - three psychoanalysts who teach in NYC public and private schools and a psychoanalyst-in-training who is retired from teaching - as we describe our experiences in the classroom and the strategies that help us secure successful outcomes for our students.

Left-right: Lisa Alvarez, LCSW, High School Special Education coordinator; Mark Buenzle, MFA, MS, LP, High School History and Art teacher; Robin Jones, MA, LP, NYC Special Education teacher; and Mary Landers, MA, CMPS Certificate Candidate, retired High School English teacher.

Friday, October 2, 2015 • 7:30-9:30 PM

CMPS, 16 West 10th Street, New York, NY 10011

For information or to register: 212-260-7050 • www.cmps.edu • cmps@cmps.edu

■ Open to clinicians and the public • Event is followed by refreshments and a social gathering ■