

CMPS

Center for Modern Psychoanalytic Studies

June Workshop

Words as a Window to the Unconscious

T

he words we use reflect our unconscious thoughts and feelings.

The things we say can enhance our relationships or undermine them. We will look at Freudian slips, accidental puns, and word associations to demonstrate the consequences of allowing our feelings to control our words. Are our words helping us achieve our goals or are they gratifying destructive feelings?

Ernest Brod

Ernest Brod is a Trustee of the Center for Modern Psychoanalytic Studies and the Director of Brooklyn Seminars in Modern Psychoanalysis. He has been utilizing the principles of modern psychoanalysis for 35 years in his workplace experience as a global corporate investigator, Chief Executive Officer, attorney, and entrepreneur. Understanding the use of words and their impact has enhanced his personal and professional lives.

■ Tuesdays, June 7 and 14, 2016 • 6:00–8:00 PM ■

CMPS, 16 West 10th Street, New York, NY 10011

212-260-7050 • cmps@cmps.edu • www.cmps.edu

Open to clinicians and the public at no charge